

ELIZABETH RAFTOPOLOUS

INTERIOR DESIGNER

Elizabeth is a multi-faceted design veteran with over 25 years of experience in both fashion and interior design. Given the strong correlation between the two disciplines, her extensive fashion background as a creative director and label founder brings a unique perspective to her interior design projects. From large single family residential projects to multi-unit residential condominiums, her emphasis on creating lasting value resonates with her clients. She is passionate about the design narrative and its development throughout the project and leads with a strong aesthetic point of view.
